

D Five miles off the ground G listenin' to the sound
 Em Of those jet engines pushin' me from A California to JFK
 D The sun's early mornin' light G hits the steam off my coffee just right
 Em I look down at those little squares of A farmland startin' their day

Em Somewhere down there my friends G are doin' those things I miss about them
 D Will's makin' calls & KC's hangin' the Open sign A in his old man's store
 Em Gina's oversleeping G Kate's out in the stable sweepin'
 D Dave's blastin' Zeppelin in his busted up Ford w/a A coffee pot on the floor

Em And I can't help but wonder G did I choose right
 D Leavin' all that behind to try my A luck out on the coast
 Em Cause I'm still feelin' often G that I'm caught in the middle
 D Between where I'm at and that A place I miss the most...
 A Place I miss the most

D Home G
 Em Sometimes getting lost is what I A need to find my way
 D Home G
 Em City lights are pretty but they're A just so far away

D 2 AM return flight G Red-eye took off at midnight
 Em Flight attendant dims the lights and all the A passengers dream away
 D It's dark down there but I know G One of those lights that still glows
 Em Is that old house full of people I love spinning A stories about their days

Em Do they know I'm up here G Far away but my heart's still near
 D I can almost hear laughter from that screened in A porch out by the lake
 Em Man I wish that I could G Watch fireflies dance in those old woods
 D I bet that rope swing still hangs in the tree we A were so afraid'd break

Em And I can't help but wonder G did I choose right
 D Leavin' all that behind to try my A luck out on the coast
 Em Cause I'm still feelin' often G that I'm caught in the middle
 D Between where I'm at and that A place I miss the most...
 A Place I miss the most

D Home G
 Em Sometimes getting lost is what I A need to find my way
 D Home G
 Em City lights are pretty but they're A just so far away

Em Aint it funny how time goes by G things that matter most get crystal clear
 Em Whatever I was looking for has G always been right
 A here A
