

Smoke filled room, champagne on ice
Bed of roses, but something still ain't right
Light through my window, lazy afternoon
I wanna taste the good life, but I'm missing you too soon

Take my heart, take my soul
Love has taken its toll
I got no feeling, no control
Love has taken its toll

I'm halfway around the world, you're halfway gone
Please don't say you're leaving, I know where I belong
I see only you, in every face I meet
I may not say I love you sugar, but I sure know what it means, yeah!

[Bridge 1] Oh, yeah, yeah

Take my heart, take my soul
Love has taken its toll
I got no feeling, no control
Love has taken its toll

[Bridge 2]

They say that love is like the edge of a knife
Cold and hard and waiting to cut you
But I can hold you for the rest of my life
I close my eyes and reach out to touch you again (Touch you again)

[Solo]

Spring turns into winter, the day kisses the night
And all I can remember honey, is kissing you goodbye
I still think about you on those deep dark lonely nights
I hold you in my aching heart and I pray that you're still mine, yeah!

[Interlude] Mine, mine, mine, mine, mine, oh yeah!

Take my heart, take my soul
Love has taken its toll
I got no feelings, got no control
Love has taken its toll, yeah!

Love has taken its toll
Sha la la la la la
Love has taken its... toll
