

The push is always part of us
And gravity's never a friend
Deciding on who we can trust
And finding our way to crescendo, to the unknown
We'll never make it outside
Lest we unlock the past and release
The future that we've left to die
For too long we've taken placebos

But the unknown, is awakening

Don't give up now, there's already so much at stake
If Atlas falls, I'll rise up and carry us all the way

No, we can never look back
Return to the salt and the sea
The quiet is only a trap
And I will not take the placebos

'Cause the unknown is awakening
But I will crescendo

Don't give up now, there's already so much at stake
If Atlas falls, I'll rise up and carry us all the way
It won't pull me down
The weight of impossible days
I'll stand tall
I'll rise up and carry us all the way

Keep moving forward now
Keep your head above the clouds
I'm right with you, I will lift you
Just hold on

Don't give up now, there's already so much at stake
If Atlas falls, I'll rise up and carry us all the way
It won't pull me down (moving forward now)
The weight of impossible days (keep your head above the clouds)
I'll stand tall (I'm right with you, I will lift you, just hold on)
I'll rise up and carry us all the way

I'll carry us all the way
(Keep moving forward now)
